

Scoring

Scoring is a fun way to add some purpose to your shooting, to chart your improvement over time and to help with your “shooting sequence”. Of course, scoring is not compulsory for participation at the usual Club shoots, but it does help you focus on what you are doing. Remember, “Practice doesn't make perfect. Perfect practice makes perfect.” (Source: Vince Lombardi, legendary NFL Coach)

Happily, these days, the process of scoring has been streamlined and you can now use your phone or similar device to record each and every arrow score and have it recorded for posterity on the web. (In tournaments, both electronic scoring, plus a paper scoresheet is required to be completed.)

The Archer's Diary & iScored.today

The Archer's Diary is a database of archers' scores shot all over the country. It can be found at <https://archersdiary.com>.

There are two components.

1. The Archer's Diary is the basic website, and it is the place you can find previous scores and results and you can register to shoot a round ahead of the day.
2. iScored.today enables you to register on the day and to score arrow by arrow electronically using a smart device.

Using The Archer's Diary (archersdiary.com)

You can use The Archer's Diary to register for Club shoots ahead of time. Click on “Event Registration”.

This will take you to the page showing the events that you can register for, by Club (you could even register for a shoot in Western Australia, if you happen to be travelling there at that time).

Use the dropdowns to find ARCHERY SA and then HILLS ARCHERS.

Click on the relevant shoot (listed in date order).

You will then be taken to a page where you can enter your name. Start typing your surname and a pop-up should display

On the right-hand side of the page under “Flights”, is a list of the rounds available to shoot on that day. Simply check the box for the round you wish to shoot and check that your details there are correct (in particular your age Class & Division (bow type). If not, simply make the correct selections from the dropdowns.

Once completed, click the blue (“Add Archer”) button at the base of the page to save it all. Once saved, your name will appear on the list of archers for that shoot, back on the Registration page. So that is one way to register. The other way is to register on the day...

iScored.today is a web-based “app” which can be used to record your scores “live” and arrow by arrow.

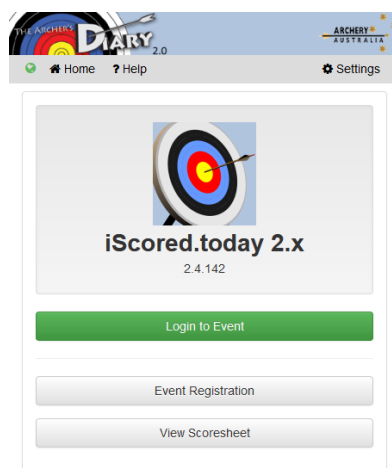

Using iScored.today

iScored.today is the electronic scoring software for The Archer's Diary. While the web address is <https://iscored.today>, you can save the page to your device's home screen and it will operate like an app (even though it isn't). (See the instructions on the last page for iPhone and Android.)

Any person who has been added into the system by the Club's Recorder, but has not registered beforehand for an event (subject to any closing date) can register via iScored.today. (Just click on Event Registration and follow the prompts.)

It allows any archer with a smart-device to select the archers on their target to score and then enter scores live to the system.

To score, you need one archer using a device to score the arrows on that target. Click Login to Event.

Having located the relevant Club and event, enter the Passcode (for events run by HILLS ARCHERS, it is Eagle1), then click Start.

A screenshot of the iScored.today 2.x mobile application interface showing the registration form. The form has several sections: 'Select RGB' with a dropdown menu showing 'Archery South Australia'; 'Select Club' with a dropdown menu showing 'Barossa Archery Club'; 'Select Event' with a dropdown menu showing 'Tuesday - maximum 19 archers per session'; 'Scorer Full Name' with a text field containing 'Joan of Arc' and a note '(helps identify the device for event management)'; and 'Enter the Passcode' with a password field showing ''. At the bottom, there's a green 'Start' button. A small text at the bottom of the form reads 'DeviceID: a2d07714-a055-48a9-7715-bca929a040a4'.

This will produce a list of registered archers. Select the archers for your target and the next page will ask in which order you want archers to be scored. (Indicate the order, by clicking on the name of each person you will be scoring for.)

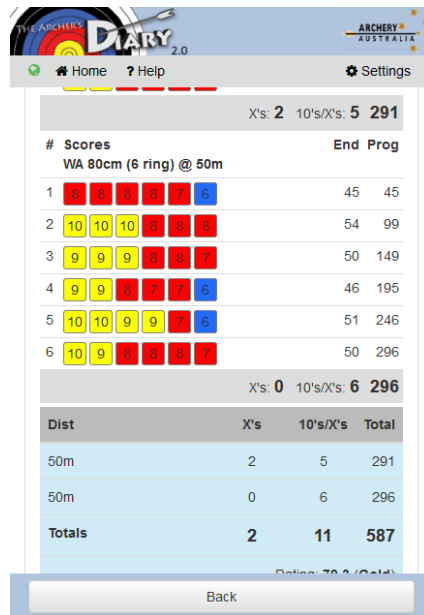

(If any archer you intend to shoot with is displayed in red, you cannot select them. It means someone else has selected them and the record is locked. Contact the Recorder to resolve any conflict issues.)

Click “Start” and then click “Start Scoring” and you will be presented with buttons to enable the scoring of the arrows of the first archer. Once the six arrows have been scored, it will automatically proceed to the next archer and when all the archers on your target have been scored, will be ready for the next end.

Made a mistake with an arrow score? There is provision to amend the score (before the final arrow of all archers is recorded). Ask at the Club – it’s a bit hard to explain here (you need to click on the end with an arrow score error and then click on the “offending” arrow score to remove it and replace it with the corrected scoring arrow).

In the event an archer has to withdraw, there's a function available to Retire an Archer, so that while the scores to that point are preserved, the archer disappears from the subsequent scoring process.

Upon completion of the round, the scores will automatically Sync to the "cloud" and will appear on the Results page of The Archer's Diary.

The screenshot shows the 'The Archer's Diary' app interface. At the top, there's a header with the app logo and navigation links: Home, Help, and Settings. Below the header, a status bar shows 'X's: 2 10's/X's: 5 291'. The main section is titled '# Scores' and 'WA 80cm (6 ring) @ 50m'. It displays a table with 6 rows of scores. Each row has a column for the archer's number, a column for the scores (represented by colored squares), and a column for the 'End Prog' (End and Progress). Below this, there's a summary table with columns for 'Dist', 'X's', '10's/X's', and 'Total'. The summary table shows data for 50m and a Totals row. At the bottom, there's a 'Back' button.

#	Scores	End	Prog
1	8 8 8 8 7 8	45	45
4	9 9 8 7 7 8	46	195
5	10 10 9 9 7 8	51	246
6	10 9 8 8 8 8	50	296

Dist	X's	10's/X's	Total
50m	2	5	291
50m	0	6	296
Totals	2	11	587

You can also view the "in progress" or completed scoresheet of any archer on the day (even if you aren't the scorer), by clicking on "View Scoresheet" on the front page. Select the archer and the scoresheet will be displayed.

The scores will also be assigned a Rating, which is a system developed by Archery Australia to enable ranking of archers regardless of the round shot.

And remember to Sign Out, when the scoring is fully completed.

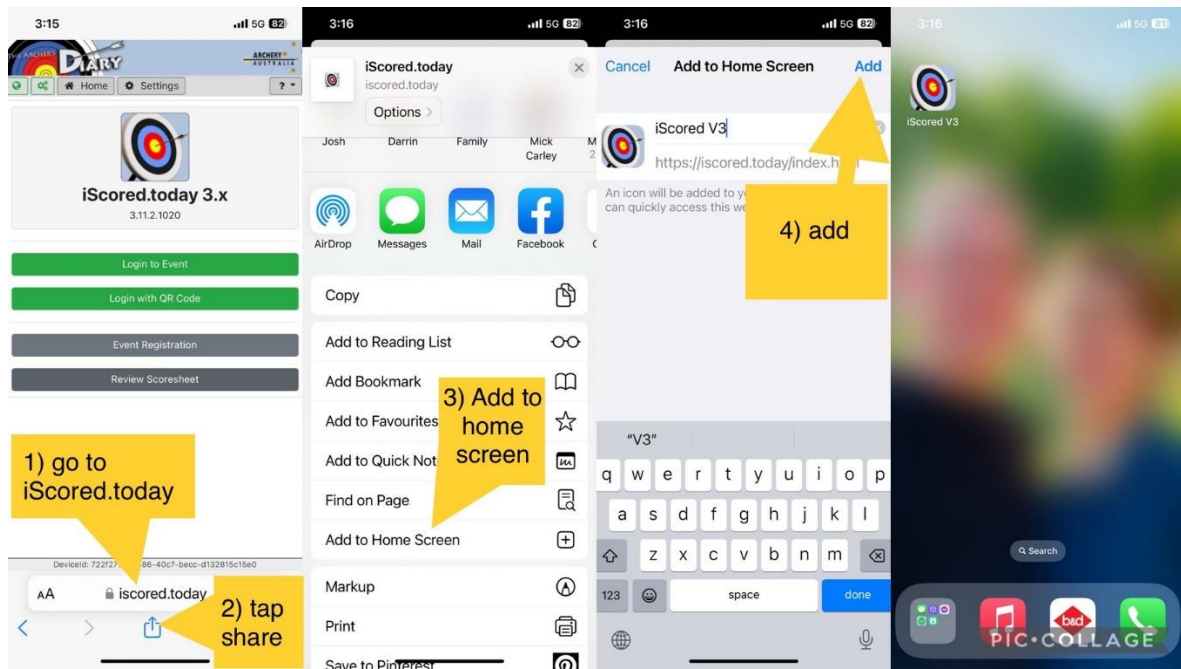

Score a round! It's a great way to measure how you are going.

You can view a list of all rounds on the cupboard at the Club, so if you want a round added to the list on iScored.today, contact the Club Recorder.

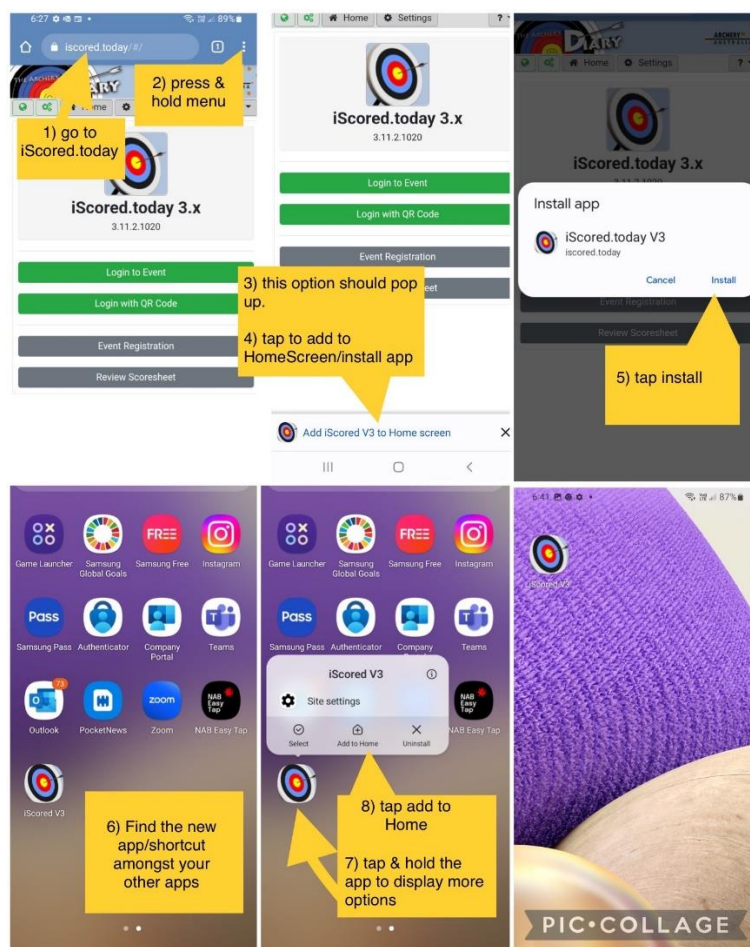

(Registering for tournaments usually involves an entry form and entry fee payment. The organiser of the event will generally add archers to the list of participants on The Archer's Diary at the close of the entry period, so that live scoring can occur at the event.)
